

REVOLUTIONIZE your Relationship

☒ 96% of couples who attended a Weekend to Remember® agreed that it had a positive impact on their marriage.

Men and women see and hear things differently and this creates challenges in the way we communicate and treat each other. Before marriage, opposites attract, after marriage, our differences can become irritants that have the potential to divide. With the right understanding, diversity can be a wonderful blessing. Regardless of which stage you're at, there is something for everyone ...

Take your marriage to new heights, discover how to embrace your uniqueness and live in the power of oneness.
